Spearfishing

For very active guests we recommend <http://spearmex.com>

The Marietas Islands is a natural protected reserve and are the three uninhabited (for ecological purposes), rocky islands located at the edge of Banderas Bay. The islands are a great place for bird watching, diving, snorkeling, or just exploring. Blue-footed booby birds can be spotted all along the islands rocky coast, and giant mantas, sea turtles, and colorful tropical fish swim among the coral cliffs.

Very basic Panga boats can take you in 20 min from the Punta Mita Cooperative.

Whale Watching

Available during the official dates for the whale watching season in Puerto Vallarta starting typically in early December until the end of March.

Please verify with any of our waiters for the option which suits your needs best, since some Tours depart in Marinas further away.
